SAILING CAMP 2010: Keep this page!

Dear Parent and Junior Sailors: It's time for sailing camp! We have a great group of enthusiastic and talented counselors who will be waiting for you at the lake. Following are some policies and helpful hints to keep everyone safe and happy at camp:

- Monday of each week is registration day. Try to arrive a little earlier, by 12:30, so that your head counselors can place you in a group. The counselors will also host a short parents' meeting after everyone is registered.
- All sessions are from 1-6 PM. No meals will be served but snacks and drinks will be provided. We will provide plenty of water.
- Please arrive at 1:00 sharp the remainder of each week. If the wind is good, we will immediately rig the boats and head out on the water. If you are late, it is possible that you will be sitting on the shore until someone can come and get you!
- Parents sign campers in and out each day; please do not drop your camper without making sure he or she is with a counselor. If you are going to be late or absent, call your counselor so he or she will know when to expect you.
- Parents, note your pick up time is during rush hour and plan accordingly. The counselors have a least an hour's worth of work after everyone goes home.
- We will send home a contact list of instructors' and supervisors' cell numbers as well as yacht club phone numbers on Monday.
- TO BRING: sunscreen, hat, sunglasses, water shoes- either crocs, flip flops, or old tennis shoes, a towel and a change of clothes. Make sure all items are marked with the camper's name. Sailors should arrive with swimsuits already on.
- Every camper MUST have a comfortable, well fitting Type III P.F.D. (life jacket). A "ski vest" type of life jacket is safer and more comfortable than an older type orange "horse-collar". Type III vests are available at Walmart and Target.
- Friday at 5:00 we will have an awards ceremony and pizza party. Parents and siblings are invited! Bring your camera!
- Do not hesitate to call an adult supervisor or your instructor with questions or concerns.
- The code to get into the gate at Harbor Island is #camp. Don't forget the #.
